

Plot Diagram
Summer Reading
Grade 7
Due: August 29, 2018

Pick a book that is appropriate for your reading level that you have not already read.

Plot Diagram:

Utilizing piktochart complete a plot diagram of your story.

- Use a separate panel for each element of the diagram(exposition, rising action, climax, falling action, resolution)
- The last panel should be your rating and review of the novel
- It is ok to use multiple panels for any element
- The character descriptions should include both physical and personality traits and be reflective of the entire character, for the entire book.
- The first panel should be the title and author.
- It should be visually appealing, with various fonts, colors, and pictures
- You will present from the piktochart during the first week of school

Upload the assignment into your 6th grade classroom in the summer reading assignment
Make sure you bring the rubric in to school for grading.
